for a parade in public next Sunday of fully 100,000 orthodox Jews who are to participate in a remarkable ceremonial, the first of its character in the history of the Hebrews of Amer-

It is to be a mammoth funeral proceraion without a body. Sacred religious relies, ancient books on the Hebraic law and gold and silver ornaments from Jerusalem which were taken from the ruins of the Christie Street Synagogue, destroyed by fire Feb. 24 last, are the objects to which levotional respect are to be paid. These relics will be contained in cof ins which, after a religious ceremo nial in Shara Zadek Synagogue, No. 38 and 40 Henry street, will be conveyed at the head of the procession and interred with Jewish rites in Bayside Cemetery, Brooklyn. These memorial services will be conducted in Hebrew in orthodox manner and are called

Rabbis Will Chant.

Many o fithe more promounced ortholox Jewish rabble will participate in the reremonies in the synagogue and at the cometery during the interment of the relics, and will chant as the grave is filled. A marble shaft is to be erected over the grave of the relice.

It is explained that these religious stitles are held in such esteem by erthodox Jews that the ceremonies wi be attended with the same sacred regard as if the last rites were being said over the body of an eminent leader of the
